1. Bids are entered in the order received.
2. The highest bidder on the date of the sale is awarded the coin at a slight advance over the second highest bidder. Bids you send in are the maximum you are willing to pay for the coin. We, as your agent, try to buy the coin as low as the next highest bid will allow.
3. Valuations placed in the auction catalog are either the Standard Catalog listings (for which we use the word "list"); or prices generally asked by dealers when the coin is in stock (for which we use the word "worth"); or prices generally realized at auctions (for which we use the word "brings").

We trust the above information will help you in securing coins in our auction sales.

Any coin which is not satisfactory may be returned within five days from date of receipt for full refund. You must be satisfied.

If you are not interested in these sales, won't you advise us so we may discontinue sending you catalogues.

At present day prices they still are much too low when mintage figures are taken into consideration.

1870 NATIONAL GOLD BANK NOTES

These were printed on straw colored paper and were issued in a ratio of about 1 to 1500 of the regular first charter notes. While the obverse are similar to the regular first charter notes, the reverses portray a group of gold coins. We have never seen these notes uncirculated and whenever they do come on the market they are usually in poor to fair condition. Considering the low number issued, it is remarkable that any are in existence today. All issuing banks of this historical reminder of the gold rush days were in California. A gold bank was chartered in Boston but did not issue any notes for circulation.

MARKET COMMENTS

This is our personal report of market conditions that prevailed at the A. N. A. convention in August at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The bourse was unusually large and well attended. Currency seemed to be the favorite in dealers' displays and in sales. We had several scarce notes spotted but before we had a chance to buy them they were sold. Choice specimens of the scarcer notes were not available. We had some of Dr. Limpert's Illustrated Currency Catalogs and sold out of the supply we had brought along. The demand for the $50 and $100 notes was strong, even for good to fine specimens.

A number of dealers had displays of gold, both United States and foreign. After talking to the dealers when the convention was over, the majority reported that choice specimens were in strong demand although circulated specimens of the more common dates did not move too well. Foreign gold seemed spotty with those of the last two hundred years in good demand and the older issues not quite as popular.

$50 and $100 notes were strong, even for good to fine specimens. demand. We had a number of requests for choice specimens of the earlier coins but supplies are small. Proofs were popular and we predict rises in the new catalog. A glance at the small number struck of some of the dates will show that they are priced much too low in comparison with the larger issues. Some of the investors went from dealer to dealer trying to buy up all the specimens available of the small issue proofs.

Nickels and Indian cents were displayed and sold with proofs seeming to be most in demand. Of course the Buffalo nickels were popular as ever with collectors searching for the rare mint marks in choice condition. Sharply struck specimens with full horn and tail were few and far between. Lincoln cents seemed to be more popular than the Indians for the time being with the 1914-D in strong demand uncirculated. Specimens are few and far between with red ones bringing over catalog.

Ever since Dr. Sheldon's book on large cents was published we noticed an increased demand for these perennial favorites. What we did not realize was just how strong the demand was. Several times each day (when collectors could catch us at our booth) we were asked to show the choice large cents we had brought with us. With the strong demand shown, many of the prices in the catalog are now too low.

Once in a while we would spot Mr. M. H. Bolender buying early silver dollars from dealers at full 1950 catalog prices. When we found some time to check other dealers' stocks to fill in some that we needed, Mr. Bolender had already beat us. We did manage to snag a few to fill some of the want lists we had on hand.

The most popular series at the convention seemed to be commemoratives. The dealers were trying to buy them from one another without much success. One dealer remarked to us that a month ago he was selling Robinsons at $2 and now he had to pay over that to replace them (he said he picked up only 9 at the convention). Another reported that he wouldn't sell his New Rochelle's less than $7.50 and would buy all he could find at $6. An investor offered to buy our entire stock of Albanys at $4 each and Elgins at $2.75 each. One investor handed us a list of 12 commemoratives that he wanted to buy in quantity and some of the prices he offered were over some of the advertised retail prices. Upon inquiry, he told us that after writing half a dozen dealers for these coins at their retail prices he had most of his money returned with the notation of either "out of stock" or "only one to a customer."

THE U. S. EARLY SILVER DOLLARS FROM 1794 TO 1804

By M. H. Bolender at $10

(Just Check Your Bid Sheet)

The interesting history of the early Dollar coinage, the trials and problems, and the progress made.

Helpful tables giving distinguishing features.

Quick, easy, and positive identification of the one hundred and seventy known varieties.

Degrees of rarity based on actual records kept over 40 years.

Large de luxe volume, 9x12 inches, quality printed and finely bound in cloth, lettered in gold.

About eighty large pages of text, with much information on this long neglected series.

A valuation list printed in loose sheet form will be inserted and included with each copy. This will give the fair current prices of all varieties in the various conditions. These conditions will be explained in detail, so that collectors may know what a "fine" coin really is, and quality will be better understood in the study of the series.

Fully illustrated with 157 different obverse and reverses, on nine large pages of fine collotype plates.

The importance of correctly attributing your early Dollars cannot be taken lightly. First, I will pay full 1950 catalogue price for any and all dates before 1804. Secondly, there are a great number of rare varieties that are worth from two to three times catalogue price, so that by being informed you may quickly realize an extra profit that will more than pay the cost of your book.
